Report Title	Victims
Meeting date	29 September 2021
Deadline for submission to OPCC	15 September 2021

Question to the Force (Question(s) to be provided by OPCC)

Neighbourhood Crime - How can the force demonstrate they are effectively meeting the needs of victims and responding effectively? (to include criminal damage, burglary, shoplifting, anti-social behaviour)

Resolution without Deployment

How confident are the Force that they are providing a good service for those people who report crime where it is resolved without deployment?

The CAAF review mentions that both victims and members of the public benefit as resources are allocated proportionately and that it doesn't give victims false hope, as it's explained why a crime is not appropriate for further investigation. What does the Force understand about the public's view on this practice?

Has any consideration been given to the benefits of providing an online face-to-face 'consultation' for people reporting crime?

Rationale for Question (Reason why the question has been asked, what is the PCC seeking assurance on etc)

Much of the previous scrutiny focus on victims has centred around victims of domestic abuse the PCC is seeking assurance on how victims of neighbourhood crime such as criminal damage, burglary, shoplifting and anti-social behaviour are treated.

OPCC Background Information (OPCC will provide information they have, for example from public feedback, stakeholder engagement, OPCC work streams, scrutiny panel and joint audit committee information, any Force responses from previous scrutiny meetings, national findings/reports, HMICFRS, performance data etc).
