

recognise • report • recover

HATE ENDS HERE

Recognise - Targeting someone because of their race, religion, disability, sexual orientation or gender identity is a hate crime.

It is a criminal offence.

The Reality - Almost 9 in 10 people accused of hate crime are charged. Most go on to be convicted.

If a crime is motivated by hate or prejudice, courts can impose tougher sentences.

Dont Be Part of the Problem - Hate crime damages lives and communities. Choose respect. Choose accountability.